

SHIREMOOR PRIMARY SCHOOL SEND INFORMATION REPORT

About the school

Shiremoor Primary School is a fully inclusive maintained mainstream primary school for children from the ages of 3 to 11 years. As a school we aim to ensure that all pupils achieve their potential personally, socially, emotionally, physically and educationally. We strive to ensure quality first teaching is applied across the whole curriculum, using a range of different teaching strategies, resources and activities. We believe that every teacher is a teacher of every child including those with SEND.

A child has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her. A child of compulsory school age has learning difficulties if he or she:

- a) Has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of children of the same age
- b) Has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools

For children aged two or more, special educational provision is educational or training provision that is additional to or different from that made generally for other children of the same age by mainstream schools, maintained nursery schools or by relevant early years providers. A child under compulsory school age has special educational needs if he or she is likely to fall within the definition in the paragraph above when they reach compulsory school age or would do so if special educational provision was not made for them.

The Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Coordinator (SENDCo) at Shiremoor Primary School can be contacted at the school on 0191 200 8701.

Appointments can be booked by contacting the school office.

Identifying Needs at Shiremoor Primary School

All children follow a broad and balanced curriculum that is appropriate to their age and stage of development. It is personalised to take into account their needs and abilities. The identification of Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) is built into the overall approach to monitoring the progress and development of all pupils. The purpose of identification is to work out what action the school needs to take. All teachers are responsible for identifying pupils with SEND and, in collaboration with the SENDCo, will ensure that those pupils requiring different or additional support are identified at an early stage.

Assessment is the process by which pupils with SEND can be identified. Whether or not a pupil is making adequate progress is seen as a significant factor in considering the need for SEND provision. As a school we recognise the importance of early intervention and therefore ensure that when a child is identified as having a special educational need we put support and strategies in place quickly and effectively. We also ensure that the support and strategies are specific to the child's individual needs.

Early Identification

Early identification of pupils with SEND is a priority. The school will use appropriate screening and assessment tools, and ascertain pupil progress through:

- Information from parents
- Information from previous practitioners (previous school, early years setting)
- Information from 2 year checks
- Screening /diagnostic tests • Reception Baseline
- Foundation Stage Assessment results
- End of Key Stage 1 SATs results
- End of Key Stage 2 SATs results
- PIVATS scores
- Teacher assessment
- Target Tracker assessment grids
- Year One Phonics Screener
- Termly tracking procedures
- Reports or observations
- Pupil's work
- Discussions with pupils

Categories of Special Educational Need

The SEND Code of Practice 2015 states that special educational needs are generally thought of in four broad areas of need and support.

- Communication and Interaction
- Cognition and Learning
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health
- Sensory and/or Physical

At Shiremoor Primary School we recognise that in practice, individual children often have needs that cut across all these areas and their needs may change over time. A detailed assessment of need should ensure that the full range of an individual's needs is identified, not simply the primary need.

If a child is not making the progress that would be expected their parent/carer would be involved as soon as possible. The school would discuss their concerns with the parent/carer and get the parent/carers views about:

- the pupil's strengths and areas of difficulty
- concerns that the parent/carer has

- agreed outcomes
- next steps

Assessment, Monitoring and Review

A Graduated Approach Where a child is identified as having a special educational need or disability, Shiremoor Primary School takes action to remove barriers to their learning and to put effective special educational provision in place.

Shiremoor Primary School uses the Graduated Approach, as outlined in the SEND Code of Practice (2015).

Assess

The class teacher working with the SENDCO / Headteacher carries out a clear analysis of the pupils needs. This draws on the teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil, their previous progress and attainment, their behaviour, their development in comparison to their peers and national data, the views and experience of parents, the pupils own views (where relevant) and advice from outside agencies if there has been previous involvement.

This assessment is reviewed regularly and helps to ensure that support and intervention are matched to need, barriers to learning are identified and overcome and that there is a clear picture of the interventions put in place and their effect is developed.

Plan

The class teacher and the SENDCo agree in consultation with the parents on the adjustments, interventions and support to be put in place, as well as the expected impact on progress, development or behaviour, along with a clear date for review. The support and intervention provided are selected to meet the outcomes identified for the pupil, based on reliable evidence of effectiveness, and are delivered by staff with sufficient skills and knowledge.

Do

Class teachers remain responsible for working with children with SEND on a daily basis. They are accountable for the progress and development of the pupils in their class, including where pupils access support from teaching assistants or specialist staff. Where interventions delivered by teaching assistants involve group or one-to-one teaching away from the main class still retain responsibility for the children with SEND. Class teachers work closely with any teaching assistants or specialist staff involved, to plan and assess the impact of support and interventions and how they can be linked to classroom teaching.

Review

At Shiremoor Primary School the impact of intervention programmes is reviewed on a termly basis as part of Pupil Progress Meetings between the class teacher, SENDCo / Headteacher / Keystage manager. During the meetings the staff, revise the support in light of the child’s progress and development, deciding on any changes to the support and outcomes in consultation with the parent and pupil. Outside agencies also review the impact of programmes which they have put in place. In addition to this the SENDCo carries out planning and book scrutiny to monitor the teaching of children with SEND, this includes looking at differentiation, the appropriateness of tasks, target setting, the use of teaching assistants and teacher support and the use of motivators and rewards. Pupil interviews and parents questionnaires are sent out annually. These monitoring and evaluating arrangements promote an active process of continual review and improvement of provision for all pupils.

Through appraisals our SLT observes teaching assistants working with children with SEND on at least an annual basis linked to pupil progress. When the impact and quality of the support and interventions is evaluated, along with the views of the pupil and their parents. This feeds back into the analysis of the pupil’s needs.

Support

High Quality Teaching

At Shiremoor Primary School all pupils have access to a broad and balanced curriculum. Teachers set high expectations for every pupil, whatever their prior attainment and teachers use appropriate assessment to set targets which are deliberately ambitious. Potential areas of difficulty are identified and addressed at the outset. Lessons are planned to address potential areas of difficulty and to remove barriers to pupil achievement. In many cases, such planning means that pupils with SEND and disabilities will be able to study the full national curriculum within the class with their peers.

The high quality first teaching at Shiremoor Primary School is differentiated and personalised to meet the individual needs of the children. Some children need educational provision that is additional to or different from this. A child with a special educational needs may be supported in a number of ways:

- By in class quality first teaching by the class teacher with appropriate strategies in place
- In a small group within the classroom with a teaching assistant.
- In a small group in a room outside the classroom with a teaching assistant.
- on an individual basis in a room outside the classroom with a teaching assistant.

Involving Parents/Carers

Parents/carers are involved in all aspects of the education of their children with SEND. We will let families know about any concerns about a pupil's learning by contacting and arranging an information meeting to discuss next steps.

During the Assessment stage of the Graduated Approach the staff at Shiremoor Primary School discuss their concerns with the parent/carer of the child who they are concerned isn't making expected progress.

They get the parent/carers views about:

- the pupil's strengths and areas of difficulty
- concerns that the parent/carer has -agreed outcomes
- next steps

During the Planning stage the parents are always made fully aware both through discussion with the class teacher and in writing of the planned support and interventions for their child. Where appropriate parents will be encouraged to reinforce or contribute to progress at home.

During the Reviewing stage Parents are given clear information about the impact of the support and interventions provided, enabling them to be involved in planning next steps.

Parents/carers can contact school if they have any concerns about their child by telephoning, writing or coming into the office and requesting a meeting or speaking to staff at the start and end of the school day.

Parents and carers can also be kept informed through home/school books/diaries and phone calls if appropriate. Staff will contact parents or carers to discuss issues, concerns or progress of individual children.

Our Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Coordinator (SENDCo) oversees all support and progress of any child requiring additional support across the school. Shiremoor Primary School hold regular parents' evenings for all parents.

If a child has a special educational need their parents/carers are involved with regular review meetings to discuss progress towards current targets and setting future targets. Parents will be involved in annual reviews for children with statements of special educational needs / Education, Health and Care Plans. These reviews focus on achievements, the progress made towards the outcomes and support and future plans.

Outside agencies involved with the child will attend and the child will be involved in all or part of the review as appropriate.

Early Help Assessments will be annually reviewed by class teachers and the SENDCo / Headteacher with parents/carers to allow additional needs to be met.

Training

In order to maintain and develop the quality of teaching and provision to respond to the strengths and needs of all pupils, all staff are encouraged to undertake training and development in many areas including SEND. Staff are regularly encouraged to look at courses on the North Tyneside CPD website and to express an interest in those they wish to attend. Staff discussions are carried out with the Headteacher where staff can discuss any training needs they feel they have and courses/ training will be sought.

Staff are also comfortable approaching the SENDCo / Headteacher and discussing their training needs when they arise. The SENDCO / Headteacher may also find specialist support training and suggest appropriate staff attend.

At least termly staff meetings are carried out linked to SEND. This enables any changes in SEND at a national, local or school level to be discussed as well as discussions around individual children to take place. This ensures that all staff are aware of any changes in children's circumstances.

All new teachers and support staff undertake induction on taking up a post and this includes meeting with the SENDCo to gain an understanding of the systems and structures in place around the school's SEND provision and practice and to discuss the needs of individual children.

Staff carry out peer observations which can link to the teaching and learning of children with SEND. The SENDCo attends the Local Authority SENDCo Network Meetings in order to keep up to date with the local and national updates in SEND. Enhanced - this level of training will be carried out by staff working with the pupil regularly, such as class and subject teachers, and will focus on how teaching and learning can be adapted to meet the pupil's needs. The training can be carried out by Educational Psychologist, staff from special schools or other specialist services.

Specialist – this is in-depth training about a particular type of SEND. The training can be carried out by Educational Psychologist, staff from special schools or other specialist services.

Transition

At Shiremoor Primary School we work in partnership with other education providers to ensure that pupils make a successful transition to the next stages of their learning, through careful and coordinated planning of the transition. We provide scheduled transition days to the local secondary school and further visits for vulnerable children; we liaise with staff, including the SENDCos of the receiving schools. Work on safe travelling is available within North Tyneside Local Authority and we will arrange this for any child who we feel would benefit from it.

Children in Year 6 with Statements of SEN / Education and Health Care Plans will be reviewed in the Autumn term before they move to secondary school. Should children need to transfer to specialist provision a transition plan will be put in place. If a child is moving to another school we will contact the SENDCo of the new school and ensure they know about any special arrangements or support that need to be made for your child. We will also make sure that all records about the child are passed on as soon as possible.
